Incidents reported for the week ending:

January 07, 2011

Incidents:

- Attempted Capital Murder of a Police Officer - On January 02nd at 12:57AM, police responded to the 5600 block of Wheelwright Way in Haymarket (20169) for a report of a domestic with weapons. The initial call into police stated that shots were fired within the residence between husband and wife. When police arrived, the husband left the area at a high rate of speed in a Hyundai Sante Fe. Police attempted to stop the vehicle which the husband ignored and a pursuit ensued. The husband struck a median at Route 15 and Dominion Valley Dr and stopped in the intersection. At that time, the husband exited the vehicle and opened fire on police. Police returned fire on the husband before he reentered the vehicle and continued down Route 15. The husband then stopped at Route 15 just prior to Sudley Rd where he opened fire on police a second time. Police returned fire again before the husband complied with commands and was taken into custody. The husband sustained an injury to the hand as a result of the incident and was ground transported to an area hospital with non-life threatening injuries. No officers were injured. The wife was not injured. Warrants have been obtained on the husband in reference to the below incident. The accused is currently being treated for his injuries which consisted of a gunshot wound to the right hand. Police have confirmed that the accused was shot by an officer. Route 15 at both locations have been cleared and is reopened. The officers involved have been placed on routine administrative leave. Photos have been attached which portray a round that had been fired by the accused towards a police cruiser. Officers had just exited the cruiser as the round struck the windshield.

The victim, a 49 year old woman of Dumfries, reported to police that she had been held against her will by the accused, her husband, in the bathroom of the residence. The accused was in possession of a handgun which the victim stated he had pointed at her and himself making numerous threats. During the encounter the accused fired the handgun striking the floor. After sometime, the victim was able to get out of the bathroom and went to the basement where her daughter, a 21 year old, was staying. The accused then went to the basement and held both victims from leaving by blocking the door, holding the firearm. Police arrived shortly after dispatch, while all parties involved were in the basement in view of the sliding glass door. No injuries were reported. The accused was detained without incident. A firearm was in possession of the accused at the time of arrest.

- Assault & Battery on Law Enforcement - On January 06th at 7:16PM, police responded to the 13000 block of Patamon Way in Woodbridge (22192) for a domestic. The investigation revealed that the accused had pushed the victim, a 68 year old woman of Woodbridge and family member, which caused her to fall back and strike her head on an unknown object. Police attempted to arrest the accused on domestic charges when he punched a uniformed officer in the face and tried to flee. A struggle ensued with the man and police which signaled an emergency response from responding officers. Police were able to get the accused in custody after a brief struggle. The officer suffered minor abrasions to the face and was treated at the scene by rescue personnel. The accused was ground transported to an area hospital for minor injuries and is currently awaiting transport from the hospital to the Adult Detention Center by their staff. The original victim in this incident was treated as well for minor injuries.
